

Rebel

Rebel anti slip porcelain tiles have an industrial sheet metal effect. The weathered metal effect, produced with HD technology, is packed with fine detail. As a result these tiles look completely authentic in their larger panel form. In addition to their metallic good looks, these tiles have a practical finish for the bathroom or kitchen floor. Rebel anti slip tiles also work particularly well on the floor in entrance areas where rainy shoes might benefit from a little extra grip. Rebel is a bold industrial look that when paired with concrete effect tiles makes a modern hard edged interior. In contrast soften the metallic finish by pairing with wood or terracotta effects.
