

Circle Line

Circle Line patterned tiles are handmade in England. There are three decorative tiles and one plain that can be fitted together to make patterns on the wall. Because this series is handmade each tile is slightly different from the next giving the finished wall a crafted warmth. The Circle Line patterned pieces can sit together in a huge variety of combinations. Each installation can be unique, allowing the circles and lines to trace their own path across the walls. To make life a little easier we can of course offer some set fitting patterns.
